As part of GW's community outreach for the creation of the 2027 Campus Plan, we encourage faculty and staff to participate over the next week in three ways:

Attend a Town Hall with GW's Campus Planning Team

There will be two Town Hall listening sessions in the University Student Center Amphitheatre for faculty and staff:

- Monday, Oct. 6, 4 - 5 p.m.
- Tuesday, Oct. 7, 10 - 11 a.m.

These interactive sessions with GW's campus planning team will provide faculty and staff an opportunity to ask questions and share input related to the initial stage of drafting the next campus plan.

Informational Tabling

Faculty and staff may also stop by informational tabling with the campus planning team at University Student Center's H Street entrance at the following times:

- Monday, Oct. 6, 11:30 a.m. - 1:30 p.m.
- Tuesday, Oct. 7, 11 a.m. - 2 p.m. and 4 - 6 p.m.
- Wednesday, Oct. 8, 10 a.m. - noon

Fill Out an Interactive Mapping Tool

Use a campus map to plot out how you spend your time on campus, including where you live, learn, work and gather frequently. Your response is anonymous though you may choose to provide your name and email at end of survey if you would like to enter a drawing for an iPad.

Note: If you took the survey in the first week and did not have a chance to enter this drawing, please email the Division of Safety and Operations.

Provide Feedback on an Interactive Map →

Information gathered at the above forums will be used to inform how future campus development will align with GW's strategic framework, accommodate academic and student housing needs, and remain responsive to adjacent neighborhoods.

For questions or comments on the 2027 Foggy Bottom Campus Plan or its upcoming planning process, email the Division of Safety and Operations.
